From the Principals Desk

Welcome back to school for all the Nulkaba families. A special welcome to the families who are joining our school for the first time, I'm sure you will enjoy this lovely school. I hope everyone has had a happy and safe holiday and are ready for another great year at school.

Thank you to all the people who have welcomed me to Nulkaba PS during my first week as Relieving Principal. For those who I have not met, I look forward to meeting you and finding out more about you and your family.

It has been great seeing the children start back at the beginning of the year. They look very smart in their uniforms and they are keen to get involved in all the activities happening at school. Kindergarten students have settled quickly into the routines and there is a wonderful feel across the school.

Thank you to the P&C executive who have provided me with information about the up and coming Fair on March 17th and the next P&C meeting on February 14th. I look forward to meeting more parents at the meeting.

During my time at Nulkaba I encourage parents to talk to the staff if they have any concerns regarding the education of their children. The staff is very approachable and dedicated to providing a quality education for your children. Have a great weekend and I'll see some of you at the swimming carnival.

Library Update

Well, we have certainly wasted no time in returning to regular activities in the Library. Many students have already begun this year's Premier's Reading Challenge, lots of library books have already been borrowed, and as usual, Mrs. Morris has begun the process of recruiting new members of the Library Assistant Team.

Except for Megan M, all the previous Year 5 Library Assistants have decided to continue in their roles, and they will be joined by new team members next week. Megan M was a terrific member of the team last year, but chose to step down from the role this year, so that she can focus on other areas. Thank you, Megan, for being a great team member.

Mrs. Morris will be announcing the new team members next Monday, so look for their names and photo in our next newsletter.

Also, our next newsletter will have lots of news from Mrs. M. This year is going to be jam packed with activities and events with lots of happenings revolving around the library and reading – more news next week.

'Til then, happy reading!
